Summary OF THE War News

Further pressure by the Teutonic armies in Galicia, has resulted in important advances for them at two points, according to the German official statement. In the one case the forces of the Grand Duke Nicholas have been pursuing to the north of the Galla Lipa river upon which they retired from the Dniester region, northward of Halicz.

The result of the Austro-German operations northward from Lemberg was forecast to some extent in recent official reports from both sides. The Russian statements indicating continued retreat in the region and the Austrian a continued advance impeded only by stubborn opposition from the Russian rear guard.

The German report now states that the engagements in this territory have everywhere resulted in defeats for the Russians who in one section were driven over the border, fighting being reported as far north as the Russian Poland, which is about 50 miles northwest of Lemberg.

Only on the eastern fighting front are events as yet revealed by the news which filters through from the vast field of operations. The Teutonic sweep eastward along that front is continuing and the object question which the military experts are endeavoring to answer is how far it will extend before being halted by the next determined offensive stand on the part of the Russians.

North of Lemberg stubborn rear guard actions are being fought by the retreating Russians. Latest Austrian reports mention these operations and the Russian official statement admits the continued advance of the Teutons.

More effective resistance, apparently, is being offered by the Grand Duke Nicholas' forces further to the north, in the southern part of Russian Poland, however, the Russian report that they have thwarted a determined attempt by the Austrians to drive through.

The only other hints of stirring activity come from the Dardanelles where, according to Turkish reports, there has been heavy artillery firing, which later the Turks declare they have repulsed. The course of these operations is being followed closely, it being hinted from London that they may prove to be of more than ordinary importance. No report on them has yet come from the side of the allies.

On the Austro-Italian front the progress of the invading forces continued to be slow. The Austrians, indeed, report entire inactivity on the part of the Italians except for artillery firing. There seems to be little, if any change in the situation along the western front where the deadlock continues.

Official VIEWS OF World's War FRENCH

Paris, June 29.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of hostilities reading as follows:

In the territory north of Arras there was a continuous last night of the unceasing, particularly north and south of Souchez and north of Neuville. An infantry engagement made it possible for us to make progress along the road between Angres and Avesnes.

In the Argonne, at Baginelle, yesterday there was incessant fighting with torpedoes and hand grenades. In the Vosges an attack by the Germans was successful in forcing back, for the moment, our advance posts located on the slopes to the east of Metzler. We at once delivered a counter-attack and re-occupied part of the ground lost.

BULL DOG FLIES AT WARDEN SENT TO DISPATCH IT

Furious Animal Undaunted By Pistol Shot Leaps at Armed Officer.

Dog Warden George Hall had a narrow escape from severe injury yesterday when engaged in killing the vicious bulldog of Michael Toht, 108 Evergreen street, which had bitten every member of a family of five.

Hall found the dog chained fast to a wire runway in the backyard. He intended killing it by an injection of hydrocyanic acid but was unable to get sufficiently near the brute. He then drew his revolver. The dog made a vicious charge which broke the overhead wire trolley and the animal tore directly at Hall, gripping the revolver far up the barrel and cartridge chambers. Hall fired one shot directly down the dog's mouth which had no perceptible effect though the bullet was a .38 caliber. He was unable to fire the second shot as the dog's fangs were gripping the mechanism too strongly.

After a minute's struggle the dog released his grip and made a second charge at the warden which he parried by a long pole that is used in snaring dogs. He finally managed to put three more bullets into the dog's body, the last of which reached a vital organ.

Warden Hall says that in his long experience with the capture of dogs this is the most vicious battle in which he ever engaged, even though he was severely bitten last week by a dog that he had captured and which broke a heavy leather collar by which he was dragging it.

The head of the Toht dog has been sent to Middletown for analysis while Miss Margaret Toht who was bitten last week, is still under medical treatment.

Ouch!
"Who was the best man at your wedding?" asked the old fogey.
"My wife," replied the groom.

I like a modest girl who's meek,
Even though she may be gushing,
For when a girl has too much cheek
She never does much blushing.

Paw Knows Everything.
Willie—Paw, does taking great pains with anything mean being careful with it?
Paw—Yes, my son. Why do you ask?

Willie—I wanted to know if you could say that a dyspeptic is a man who takes great pains with his eating.
Paw—You go to bed, young man. You are getting too blamed smart.

Wuff!
A lazy dame is Mrs. Mirk.
Her duties she will shirk.
She's always doing fancy work,
But doesn't fancy work.

Huh!
"It is now said that inhaling sulphur will cure catarrh," remarked the thin man.
"That won't help much," replied the fat man. "You never suffer with catarrh after you die."

Advice.
My son, you should pay as you go.
Give ear to what I'm saying,
Or some day you will cause great woe
By going without paying.

BRIDESMAID AT DUKE WEDDING WHO WILL WED THE BEST MAN

MISS ELLEN YULLE

There is a third romance surrounding the recent series of Duke-Biddle weddings. The engagement has been announced of Miss Ellen Yulle of Bronxville, N. Y., to William Jay Sturgis of Manhattan. Miss Yulle and Mr. Sturgis are Virginians by birth. They had met before the first of the weddings that doubly united the Duke and Biddle families, but it was at the marriage of Miss Cordelia Drexel Biddle to Angier B. Duke in Philadelphia April 28 that their engagement was rumored. Miss Yulle was one of Miss Biddle's bridesmaids and Mr. Sturgis was Mr. Duke's best man.

FAIRFIELD COURT'S DELAY FORTUNATE FOR BRIDGEPORTER

Judge Throws Case Out of Court After Town Hearing Results in Fine.

Because of a delay of the Fairfield court in filing papers, the case of W. P. Seller, the Fairfield motorist, charged with reckless driving, has been erased from the criminal common pleas docket. He was fined $25 and costs in Fairfield but now he doesn't have to pay anything.

Attorneys Garlick & Swain, representing Seller, maintained that the papers were not filed until January 5, 1915 and the court convened January 5. It was on this technical point that the case was thrown out.

Edward Anderson of this city, charged with breach of the peace, was fined $25.

Thomas Latski of Stratford forfeited a bond of $100. He was charged with assault, breach of the peace and resisting policemen.

Nicholas Franco of New Canaan, charged with assault and breach of the peace, forfeited a bond of $75.

They Like Fat Girls in Tunis. A Tunisian girl has no chance of marriage unless she tips the scale at 200 pounds, and to that end she commences to fatten when she is fifteen years old. She takes medicine and eats a great deal of sweet stuff and leads a sedentary life to hasten the process. Up to fifteen she is very handsome, but at twenty what an immense, unwieldy mass of fat she becomes! She waddles, or rather, undulates, along the street. Her costume is very picturesque, especially if she be of the richer class. She is clothed in fine silks of resplendent hues of a bright red, yellow or green and wears a sort of conical shaped headdress, from which depends a loose white drapery. Turkish trousers and dainty slippers, the heels of which barely reach the middle of the feet, complete the costume.

Spanish Surnames. In addition to three or four Christian names the Spanish child bears the combined family names of his father and mother. When the surnames are doubled or connected by the y, meaning "and," the first is the more important one and the only one that may be taken alone, for it is in the father's name, while the last is in the name of the mother. In Spain they know no "senior" and "junior." Father and son may bear the same name, but each takes his own mother's name as a distinction, the father being, for instance, Pedro Diaz y Castillo and the son Pedro Diaz y Blanco.

Cause Found at Last. The teacher was having an interesting half hour with the children, asking them questions, any one having the privilege to answer. It was a great time to show off. The teacher asked about various things, and one question was about locusts. Several hands were raised, and finally one boy was selected to speak. "A locust is a bug that gives people tuberculosis," was his answer.—Indianapolis News.

Joy of Obliviousness. "How did you like my turning off the gas at 10 while you and that young fool were in the parlor last night?"

"Did you?" she responded innocently, and father knew the true meaning of the word failure.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Large crowds of students and citizens gathered in Potsdam city Sunday night and tendered an ovation to Queen Victoria of Sweden, en route to Stockholm from Berlin.
